"I want to take this occasion to say," he declared, "that the United States will not seek to secure one additional foot of territory by conquest."

MEXICAN ELECTION RESULTS MAY NOT BE TOLD FOR WEEK

Powers Expected to Join With United States in Ousting
Huerta Provided He Is Declared President

(By Associated Press.)
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27.—News of yesterday's election may possibly be known within a week, but it is more likely that a fortnight will elapse before the result is placed before the public. Not even a good guess as to who was at the top of the poll can be made at present. Returns are fragmentary.

In the federal capital the result may be known within a day or two. Telegrams received today by the department of the interior showed that the elections at Guadalajara and Toluca were orderly.

At the close of the elections yesterday the indications were that not sufficient votes had been cast in Mexico to constitute a legal choice for the presidency to succeed General Victoriano Huerta.

No official announcement has been made, but it is unofficially estimated that the indications were that not sufficient votes had been cast in Mexico to constitute a legal choice for the presidency to succeed General Victoriano Huerta.

"DORSEY COERCED JURY BY FEAR OF OBSCURE VIOLENCE"

So Declares Attorney Reuben
R. Arnold, Who Was Still Speaking When Court Adjourned at 12:30 o'clock

"CONLEY PROTECTED BY SOLICITOR," ARNOLD SAYS

Mr. Arnold Will Probably Conclude During Early Afternoon, and He Will Be Followed by Frank A. Hooper

With additional exhortation of the solicitor general, Hugh M. Dorsey, for his methods in conducting the trial, and the state marshal, Attorney R. R. Arnold, who was still speaking when court adjourned at 12:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, Mr. Arnold said that with about fifteen minutes more at the afternoon session to be held at 2 o'clock, he would finish his speech.

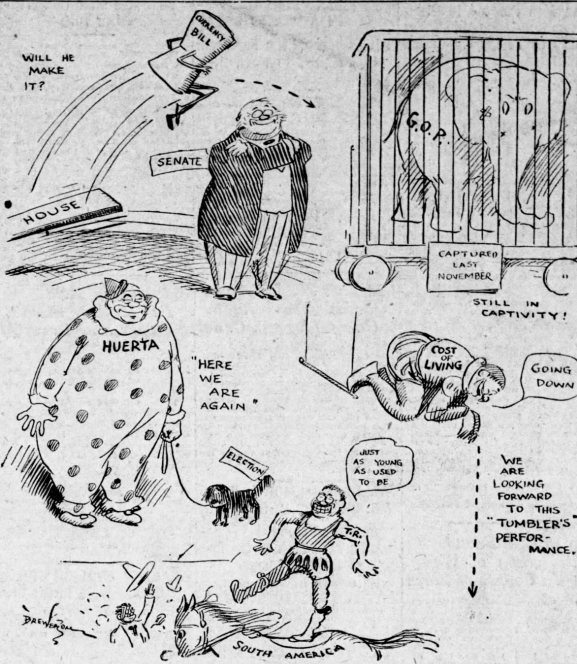

Mr. Arnold began his speech about noon last Friday and spoke at the Friday afternoon session again, and continued at both sessions of the court Saturday. When adjournment was taken for lunch, at 12:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, Mr. Arnold said that with about fifteen minutes more at the afternoon session to be held at 2 o'clock, he would finish his speech.

Mr. Arnold concluded, Attorney Frank Hooper, who assisted Solicitor Dorsey in prosecuting Frank, will have his turn with the argument, presenting the state's side for the first time at the present hearing. He will occupy not more than a couple of hours, he said Monday morning. Solicitor Dorsey will follow him. Attorney Lester Z. Rosser, of counsel for the defense, will conclude the case with his own argument of the state. It is expected that Mr. Rosser will confine his argument to the law points upon which the defense is based.

The defense informed the newspapermen that it had been notified of the mailing from the Pacific coast of copies of several newspapers out there which carried, under date of October 19, accounts furnished by a news agency not the Associated Press, of the execution of Leo M. Frank in Atlanta for the murder of Mary Phagan.

Mr. Arnold opened his speech by calling attention to the Wilburn trial, finished the other day in Georgia. "That shows how we treat our own boys when they are tried," said he. He went into a detailed description of the charges against Wilburn and declared that if the crime itself had anything to do with the feeling against a man on trial, in that case certainly there would have been a great prejudice against Wilburn for the crime which he was charged with. He said that in that case, there was not a murmur in court, not a cheer, not a word on the streets expressed their sorrow that it had been necessary to find the man guilty and sentence him to the death penalty. That was a very commendable and proper attitude. It was due to the fact that Wilburn was not an alien, but one of our own fellow boys.

He wondered if they had against him not his own confession but only the statement of a dirty negro cook like Conley with only strained facts to corroborate it. How long it would have taken the same jury to turn him loose if it would have taken just about a month. They wouldn't have gone out of the box to reach a verdict.

Atlanta's bank deposits, which reliably reflect the financial condition of Georgia and the South, reached a high water mark Saturday when they exceeded those of the corresponding Saturday a year ago by more than $5,000,000. The deposits Saturday aggregated the enormous sum of $24,856,673.35, as compared to $19,856,673.35 in 1912. The gain this year was exactly $5,000,000. It is confidently predicted that this year's bank deposits will break all previous records, and the same thing is expected of the bank clearings. The Atlanta weekly bulletin, issued Saturday, placed Atlanta fifteenth in the amount of bank clearings for that week as reported by the cities of the United States.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS.
The statements as to capital, surplus and undivided profits are equally encouraging. As in each particular, they show a remarkable increase. On October 26 in 1912 the total capital of the banks was $5,676,230, and in 1913 on October 26 it was $5,676,230, an increase of $2,710. The surplus and undivided profits in 1912 on October 26 were $2,498,145.18, and in 1913, on October 26, the amount was $5,676,237.27, a gain of $2,678,092.09.

COTTON CROP CAUSE.
The marked increase of deposits is accredited to the early marketing of the cotton crop, which is one of the largest in years. Movement of the staple has been steady and rapid. This year's crop will not be a tremendously large one, other years are good, too, and the season is one of prosperity everywhere. The condition of the banks of the city has always been sound, and each year shows an increase in the deposits and surplus, but the fact to something new is shown in the deposits. The indication of the growth and financial progress of the city and the state. With two more months still in this year the total of business for the year will probably make the record for Atlanta.

CURRENCY BILL UP FOR FINAL HEARING

Well-Defined Sentiment in Evidence for Federal-Controlled Bank

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Final consideration of the administration currency bill in the senate banking committee began today. The committee went into executive session to consider amendments to the measure with a well-defined sentiment in favor of a government-controlled central bank.

There was strong opposition to the central bank plan apparent in the house, and will probably be unable to pass that principle into the bill.

The committee has been busy on the various provisions of the administration bill for some time. The committee already has considered a reduction in the number of members of the board of directors from twelve, and the elimination of the secretary of agriculture and the controller of the currency from the federal reserve board.

PROF. DYKES PLEADS FOR IMPROVED HIGH SCHOOLS

Pupils Deserve Better Quarters and Should Have Them, He Says

In a written statement Prof. W. F. Dykes, principal of the Atlanta Boys' high school, calls upon the citizens of Atlanta to see to it that the four high schools of the city are provided with more modern buildings and better facilities.

Prof. Dykes calls attention to the fact that the high school enrollment is approximately 1,500-2,000 girls and 600 boys, and observes that a city the size of Atlanta should have at least 2,500 pupils in its high schools.

"The surroundings of the high school pupils are not conducive to their intellectual betterment," says Prof. Dykes. "A noble discontent is evident in their faces. They deserve better quarters and should have them."

Prof. Dykes does not undertake to designate which of the four high schools is in the greatest need, but he does suggest that the city should, during the coming year, build two high schools to cost not less than $250,000 each. He reminds the public that the high schools do not share in one dollar of the recent bond issue for schools.

"The high schools," says Prof. Dykes, "are the people's colleges. They are preparing our boys and girls for citizenship. Good high schools help to make good citizens."

Atlanta Engineer Won Bet Pulling Wilson in on Time

By putting the presidential special into Atlanta on the dot at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Engineer L. F. Busha, of the Southern railway, won the bet he made from the train dispatcher at Charlotte, N. C.

The wager between the engineer and the dispatcher blinged upon the former arriving with the president in Atlanta at exact schedule—neither one second early nor one second too late. He won by bringing the train to a dead stop in the Terminal as the hands of the clock split 5.

"We'll him'll take home crisp and care scrambled," said the engineer to the Atlanta dispatcher as he climbed down from his engine.

Mr. Busha is a resident of College Park. The Southern railway put one of its best engineers at the head of the president's train from Charlotte, and gave Busha the honor of running it because he has been with the road twenty-two years and his record is one of the best. Not a mishap marred the trip.

CARTER ACQUITTED OF EMBEZZLING CHARGE

Trial Ended Saturday and Was Most Prominent in Years in Fannin County

BLUE RIDGE, Ga., Oct. 27.—Verdict of acquittal was rendered in favor of John H. Carter Saturday night in the superior court of Fannin county.

H. L. Patterson, judge, presided in the prosecution instituted against Mr. Carter some time since, charging embezzlement of two notes of $2500 each, alleged to have belonged to the North Georgia Trust company, of which Mr. Carter was formerly president.

The trial consumed two days. It was bitterly contested on both sides, and goes into the court history of this county as one of the most important cases ever tried here.

Mr. Carter formerly lived here and made many friends, who stood by him throughout the accusation. The prosecution likewise, in many friends, it being announced in court that some local parties, former business associates of Mr. Carter, were interested in the prosecution to the extent of employing private counsel to assist the state. Spectators packed the court room during the trial.

After the arguments of the attorneys and the judge's charge, which was accepted by all as full and impartial, the almost universal opinion was that Mr. Carter would be acquitted. The verdict rendered in accordance with this forecast is received with general approval by the public.

Solicitor General H. H. Clay, ex-Judge George F. Guber, of Atlanta, and Colonel William Britt, of Blue Ridge, appeared for the state, while the defense was represented by Hon. B. L. Smith.

Woman Burned Trying To Save Her Piano in Inman Park Fire

Fire practically destroyed the residence of L. J. Burke, 172 McLendon avenue, Monday morning at 5 o'clock.

When the police and firemen arrived upon the scene, they found Mrs. Burke frantically struggling with a piano, endeavoring to save it from the flames. Though Mrs. Burke had been slightly burned she insisted upon securing the piano first of all. It was with difficulty that firemen persuaded her to let them attend to it. Tarpsulins were spread over it and but little damage resulted.

NEGRO THIEF TRIES FOR FREEDOM ON THE ROOF

Answering a call for Burgess and Market, 231 Auburn avenue, Sunday morning early, Call Officers Jones and Watson discovered a negro burglar at work on a rear window. When they called to him to throw up his hands, he was ducked and in the darkness snatched the roof of the meat shop. Undaunted, he scrambled across the roof and succeeded in capturing the negro. At present the nation he gave him the name of Paul Johnson.

The police have been requested to be on the lookout for Josie Purdy, eighteen years old, who is missing from her home in Birmingham. LOCAL SLEUTHS AFTER "DIPS" AT WORK HERE

Public Asked to Be on Lookout for Snatch-Thieves Migrating South

Detectives of the local department are particularly active just now in watching for pickpockets and snatch thieves. Chief Langford asserts that at this season many "dips," migrating to Florida and Louisiana for the winter, stop off here for a few operations and then continue their journey. He has asked that the public be on the alert for these men and immediately report any case of loss to the police.

Five persons were victimized Sunday: George E. Stewart, of Egan, Ga.; J. W. Tucker, 247 Whitehall street; and Thomas Hopkins, 228 Washington street, each reported the loss of pocket books. Julian Daniels, 23 King street, and William Rusk, 231 Piedmont street, declare that their watches are missing.

"Buy it Because it's a Studebaker"

Not because of the price mark; but because of the trade mark.

Not because of the good looks; but because of the good name.

Not because of the outside, but because of the inside.

"FOUR" the Final Word Among Four-Cylinder Cars

This Studebaker "FOUR" has been developed from our experience in building 110,000 "FOURs."

Its price, $1050, represents the outside limit you should pay for a "Four," because no "Four" can give you more, in actual value or performance, than this one does.

So its price is right. Its capacity is right. Its value is right. It is the right type—the last word among four-cylinder cars.

A Powerful Long-Stroke Motor

Nothing that we can say here will give you an adequate idea of the power possibilities of this car—or of the things of which it is actually capable.

The motor presents the latest approved engineering: practice—cylinders cast in one piece, valves enclosed, exhaust and intake manifolds fitted as one.

The intake is very short and direct, placing the carburetor in a most advantageous position.

In fuel, both oil and gasoline, it will give long mileage.

Thirteen Timken bearings reduce friction and wear to the minimum at every point in the transmission and rear axle and in front wheel hubs.

A Car Pleasing to the Eye

The "FOUR" presents the beautiful continuous stream-line effects, with hood sloping upward to a deep cowl.

Running boards are clean and free, with foot plates of aluminum.

The gasoline supply is under the cowl, giving a short, direct gravity feed to the carburetor.

Its rear axle is of the full-floating type, and completely accessible.

The rear springs are of the full-elliptic, very long and easy, and with the lower member suspended beneath the axle.

Electric Lighting and Starting

It has left hand steering and center control. The electrical starting and lighting equipment is the Wagner two-unit system—two units for greater efficiency and greater dependability.

Headlights are Gray & Davis' best quality parabolic lamps.

The windshield is of new design, ventilating, clear vision and rain vision.

Most Modern and Complete Equipment

Rims are detachable demountable, with one extra rim and tire carriers at the rear.

Studebaker-Jiffy curtains are always ready for quick lowering from within the car.

The dash equipment includes illuminated speedometer, oil feed and electric current indicator.

Electric horn, robe rail, tools and tool box are also furnished with the four.

The car can now be seen at the Studebaker store, and a demonstration arranged.

Big Fair Across Ocean
on September 28

Georgia day at the great Anglo-American exposition, to be held in London from May to October, 1914, is being promoted by the Georgia commission. Notice to this effect has reached Governor Slaton in a letter from Mrs. R. K. Slaton, one of the commissioners generally known as the "big show."

Governor Slaton is urged to attend and to bring along with him a large party of state officials. Special arrangements will be planned for the Georgia delegation when they arrive in London. It is expected to go to London on September 25 to attend the Georgia exposition.

DODD WILL CONTESTED BY LURID STATEMENTS

Excluded Heirs Allege That Dead Woman Was Monomaniac
and Plotted Murder

First hearing in the effort to break the will of Mrs. Barbara C. Dodd will be held on Wednesday morning, and because of the prominence of the family, the case of the estate and the unusual allegations of those excluded from the will, the case will attract much attention.

Mrs. Dodd, who died a short while ago, leaving an estate valued at about $100,000, excluded entirely from her will eight of her kinpeople, and they at once set on action to break the will, alleging that she left them out because she had become a monomaniac in her decline for reasons they refused to kill or maim J. H. Garner, Mrs. Dodd's divorced husband. They contend that she was of sound mind at the time she made the will, and that they are entitled to benefit from her estate.

Robert B. Braddon and King, Spaulding & Underwood represent the excluded heirs and Westmoreland Bros. and C. P. Jones will defend the will for C. E. Currier, executor.

The case was set for Monday, but because of the illness of the judge, it was postponed until Wednesday. The judge was checked until Wednesday.

Services for Year Were There

"Home-coming day" at the Baptist Tabernacle Sunday was more like an all-day family reunion. The religious services, morning and evening, were characterized by a warm spirit of brotherly love among the members of the congregation and between them and the pastor, Dr. Lincoln McConnell.

The congregation gathered for the morning was met at the doors as it arrived and was greeted there by the pastor and members of the church. The auditorium of the church was decorated in honor of the day, with bunting and flowers.

Dr. McConnell took for his text, "Thou shalt love me, Peter," from the Bible story of Christ and Peter. Following the sermon, a special collection was taken up for the work of the Tabernacle during the next fiscal year.

It was remarked that many members of the old Tabernacle, who had not attended service there for a year or more, were among the congregation Sunday.

JOINT MEETING TO PLAN FOR MARKET

Chamber of Commerce and Council Committees Meet
Tuesday Morning

A meeting of the joint market committee from the chamber of commerce and the general council will be held in the council chamber Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of forming a permanent commission to investigate public markets in different cities of the United States with a view towards establishing such a place in Atlanta within the near future.

This commission, when named, will immediately take steps for the investigation of public markets in other cities in order to become thoroughly acquainted with their workings and advantages towards lowering the high cost of living. Their research will be thorough and cover several weeks before a report with recommendations is made to the chamber of commerce. At that time the matter of establishing the market here will be taken up and every effort made to push the movement to a successful consummation.

$750 GIVEN FOR NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL
Meeting Sunday Results in Funds for Local Colored
Institution

At a meeting at St. Paul Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday afternoon, $750 was subscribed for aid in liquidating the indebtedness of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial School. Many well known Atlantans, interested in negro welfare, were present. The meeting was presided over by A. Montgomery, manager of the Coca-Cola Company.

Rev. E. H. Oliver, pastor of the Warren Chapel, M. E. church, presided at length upon the relations existing between the race and the school, and the solution of the race question and the negro's welfare lay in practical education.

Dr. Richard Orme Plinn, of the North Atlanta Presbyterian church, delivered an interesting address, as did also H. H. Chapman, of the North Atlanta Presbyterian church, and J. C. Stinson, principal of the school and outlined its work.

The large theater was jammed, he said, and they mean business over there. They will never regret it, as he assured of that.

Chief of Police Beavers of Birmingham was the host and Chief of Police Beavers were delightedly entertained by him.

By many friends and presented with a jeweled emblem, Mr. Beavers was last week made a thirty-third degree Mason at Washington and the emblem is to be used in ceremonial work in the order.

Those who presented it were Alex and Cecil Meyers, Douglas Barnes, Edward Brown, A. Guthrie, John E. Ryan, Dr. M. Turner, Fred Vanpool, and C. Evans, Isaac Lichtenstein and J. D. Cavanaugh.

Yale and Princeton Seem Out of Running in the East

HANK'S TENTH DAY-- HE TRIES TO HANG A DEER

--BY FARREN

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

THE AUCTIONEERS.
I called upon a baseball scribe To write the time away.
But looking up he curtly said: "This is my busy day."
"Your busy day?" answered back, "Old piker, don't you know The busy season closed about Half a month ago?"

"O yes," he said, "the season's done. And yet my work has just begun." And when I could not fathom it He spoke as follows--or to wit:

"I've just traded Jackson for Speaker, And yet my work has just begun. I've just found a job on the Yankees for Cobb, And Herzog, a Cardinal beat; But here at the threshold of twilight I've traded but ninety-six men; So be a good fellow and leave me alone For I must go to it again."

So far most of the New York deals have been arranged around McGraw. But why overlook Frank Chance? As the P. L. has been over-looked we desire to insert the following in behalf of the Yankees: "Chance will soon announce a big deal; the tip is out that within ten days he will exchange the trade of Peckinpaugh for Eddie Collins and Schultz for Walter Johnson. There may be a hitch, however, to the contemplated exchange of Gilheoley for Cobb and Crawford."

On the other hand, "the deal whereby Malsb is to the Athletics for McIntosh and Baker is practically closed."

We are unable to verify the report that the Giants will play an exhibition game in St. Louis. The King of Sweden that Jim Thorpe was not a professional ball player. Jim, however, may drop in on the King to deliver a couple of cups he overtook in the first scramble.

Which reminds us again that we won a $5 hat from Thorpe on the Carlin-Cornell game. Fading away rapidly in the direction of the Suez Canal, Thorpe should worry.

THEIR NAMES BEING?
They say the science and skill of football has improved wonderfully every day. But how many kickers of late seasons have been developed who have a wide margin on Pat O'Leary, George Brooks, Hirschberger, Seelye or John De Witt?

How many backs are there better than Heaton, Dibble, Butterworth, Kelley or Chadwick?

How many ends better than Shevlin, Snow, Kilpatrick or Campbell?

If there is any reply to the backfield query, Harvard might kick in with Brickley, Hardwick and Mahan. But we doubt, all around, if the general improvement in talent has been as widespread as one might think.

WHY GOLF PROS SWALLOW NIBLICKS--
That club they may not use a niblick. I hooked the first two shots, sliced the next two and topped the fifth. I think the fault is in the shaft. Can't you make me a club that will keep the ball somewhere in the course?"

We have new ideals and practically no ambitions. But we'd like to be governor of New York just one day with Mr. Murphy of Tammany Hall dropping in for one of his Sulzer commands as to what we should do or shouldn't do. It will be a great honor, and he'll be about 40 feet long, so that we could get a good running start for the impianting of a swift kick where it would do the most good.

What New York boss or politician did Kipling almost have in mind when he wrote:
"On you the shame of open shame, on you from north to south The hand of every honest man flung across your mouth?"

If the Cardinals surrender Ed Konetchy the intricate mathematical problem will then be established of a ball club finishing ninth in an eight-club circuit.

The Cardinals may get Buck Herzog in a trade, but if Manager Hughes ever desires to see Herzog in action thereafter he will be forced to take a trip to a certain Maryland farm.

"And he said to himself as he reached the tree--
"I'd sell my soul for a 75."
--B. L. T. in Chicago Tribune.

And the duffer added a mauling roar
"I--I--I'll sell you for a 75."

As the next Olympic games will be held in Berlin, Germany, what nation would you pick as the ultimate winner of the event entitled, "Empowering The Standing Broad Steep?"

Having no prejudice one way or another, we hope Mr. Pumpelly dashes into the limelight again this fall. Pumpelly, of Yale, is one of the softest rhyming clichés of the decade. All one needs to do is to give the phrase a gentle push and it rolls along through four or five verses with its own momentum.

If Hobe Baker can kick a ball as far as Frank Baker can hit one, there is only one sure bet for intercollegiate champions of the east.

Report Says Feds Have Five Big League Stars
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 27--Information was obtained here today from a reliable source that five men actually engaged with major league clubs at the end of the 1912 season will be at the head of Federal league clubs next year in the capacity of managers.

Four of these concerned are associated with the National league, being Walter Lauch of Chicago, Walter Roberg, former Baltimore and St. Louis National league catcher and at present coach of the New York Giants, Ed Konetchy, former Cardinals catcher, and Ed Konetchy, of the Cardinals.

The American league player who may sever his connection with the organization is George Stovall.

It is already a known fact that the league will be composed of eight clubs next year, the franchises being Baltimore and Buffalo, unless something unforeseen occurs. It is said that Lauch and Bresnahan are to be stationed in Chicago and St. Louis, respectively. Robinson, who for many years was catcher for the Baltimore Orioles, when Johnny McGraw played third base for that club, is slated to head the Baltimore team. George Stovall has already opened negotiations with Kansas City.

The November meeting of the Federal league league will settle definitely some of the points of the league in circulation at present regarding prospective moves of the organization. Philadelphia is going to get a franchise, according to the report here.

SCRIBES PREPARE FOR BIG GOLF TOURNAMENT

Notwithstanding the fact that the United States has been declared to be on the verge of an international wrangling on account of the Mexican situation, in spite of the crush of new relations to battles, murder and sudden death in the very teeth of pink, white and green extraneous great sport events of the week, despite these things, the newspaper fraternity of Atlanta has found time to become intensely interested in the golf tournament they are to play on the course at East Lake this week.

Following the announcement that the golf committee of the Athletic club has arranged the tournament, golfers on rival sheets have been busily engaged in preparing for the contest. Perhaps the biggest development in the situation, as the Washington correspondents would say, is the effort on foot by the rival groups to copy of the big cup for the sheet they represent. Journal men declare their men, or one of them at least, must bring home the trophy, while the Constitution and Georgian cohorts have settled the matter already in their own home circle by picking out their best player and putting it up to them to win or renounce their clubs forever.

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE.
Mr. George Adair, chairman of the golf committee of the Athletic club, has announced a special committee consisting of a representative from each daily, to arrange the final details of the contest. This committee is W. L. Halstead, of the Constitution; John Paschal, of The Journal, and Oscar Keeler, of the Georgian. These men will set with Mr. Adair and make the drawings, fix the dates and in other ways manage the affair.

It has been determined that thirty-two entries will be received by the committee, and when these are all in the names will be placed in a hat and drawn out in pairs. These pairs are to play each other in the opening round, which must be finished by next Saturday, November 1. The winners in this round will constitute the first flight to compete for the handsome silver trophy offered by Mr. Adair. The losers will form the second flight and will compete for another handsome cup. There will also be a cup for the runner-up in the first flight.

Three weeks will be allowed in which the matches are to be played, thus affording ample time for all entries to get out on the course and play their matches.

Anyone regularly connected with the Atlanta dailies, whether editor, business manager, reporter, sporting editor, special writer or cartoonist, is eligible to enter. The entrance fee is $1. Those who desire to enter should send in their names to one of the special committees named above.

The Atlanta Athletic club has accepted the privilege of the course to non-members who enter, same to be exercised during the tournament.

NEW JERSEY MIDDLE WEIGHT SHAMES ADONIS FOR BEAUTY

NEW YORK, Oct. 27--So far as the ancient saw, "Handsome is as handsome does" concerned, Johnny Howard, the Bayonne middleweight, has complied with the first requirement. The Jerseyman is as handsome a piece of Queensberry material as ever took off a bathrobe in a twenty-four-hour fight. I have reference to his form and muscular development, for a pretty face is not regarded as necessary or desirable in stuffed glove society. Howard is finely proportioned and does not present a single flaw in the matter of physical makeup.

So far so good, and it remains only for the young man to realize the concluding sentence of the phrase, "does."

That is a matter for the future, as Howard is now in his pugilistic infancy. He is only twenty-one years of age and has boxed a trifle over six months.

In that time he has exhibited a fair amount of science and a telling punch, but has not yet shown any of the qualities that would justify him being matched with Gibson, Klaus or Clabby.

However, that is yet to be decided and if he ever does develop into a top-notch, he will be the best looking champion this ever held the title.

In his campaign to date Howard is quite properly being tried out against the less pretentious of the 165-pound class, and there is small question that a very good line on the young man's abilities will be obtainable before the winter ends.

His Jersey friends have hopes for his future, but they are not claiming any world's pennants for him as yet.

They content themselves with the assertion that he is promising, and are anxious to see him in action. Howard is assured of a large number of good matches during the season that is now getting under full swing.

DO NOT WORRY ABOUT YOUR PLAYING WEIGHT

If you're playing guard on the team this fall don't worry about your weight. Fifty pounds of wild-cat can carry a weighty bear. First make up your mind you're better than the fellow you've got to face. Start with the ball. Start a whole lot faster than the other fellow starts. Hit him hard. Hit him low. Make him play in his own territory. Carry the game up stream. Never let him get the jump. Use every muscle you've got at command. Have them all at command. Learn to concentrate your mind. Have every thought on the game. Watch the ball from the corner of your eye. Start with the first move of the ball. Start low, hit hard, follow through. Watch your man all the time. Try to think what he's going to do. Do something he doesn't expect. If you are on the defense you can use your hands. Use them differently every time. Keep your man guessing every play. Get to him first. You'll have him back before he knows it. It makes no difference what size. Hit him first, and you've got him sure. Find his weakness. Many have one. Though they may not look it. Find the spot, then work it hard. Make every move your own big effort. Speed and a head are often better than weight and brawn. You think you're slow. You can speed up a lot. If you find you're slow, practice starting with the ball. Practice every minute you can. Put your mind on the job. Bring every muscle into play. Use your brain. Concentrate. Think that you're going to win. Keep your mind on it all the time. After awhile it will come without thought. Get up speed. Use your eyes. The better man it's an acquired habit that you can get. Just make up your mind. Be a self-confident steel spring and you'll have them on the jump.

John Cullen, who presided at the Ruler trial, told me the governor's reputation on criminal grounds, while expressing the opinion that the attorney general should be removed from office. Cullen, think the administration of justice is a game.

FIGURES SHOW MONOPOLY BY BAKER AND COLLINS

Any one who doesn't believe that the big series was a Collins-Baker monopoly can consult the actual figures. Here they are:

Pitchers--	11	BB	HR	Total R.	Pct.
Mathewson	14	2	0	16	2.185
Bush	5	3	1	9	2.222
Plank	9	3	1	12	2.267
Reider	19	3	1	21	2.429
Demaree	7	1	0	8	2.500
Crandall	4	0	0	4	2.500
Marquard	19	0	0	13	2.569
Torresano	11	1	0	12	2.583

(Deducting Collins and Baker.)
Remember, too, that eight of the sixteen runs scored by others than Collins and Baker were driven across the plate by these two men, while even this tab does not show the various runs which Collins and Baker sent along to second or third, whence they could score on errors, force-plays or sacrifice flies. The plain truth is just about like this: that the Athletics, in that entire series, didn't get even four runs that were not, in some manner, assisted to the goal by Collins and Baker!

Was there ever in world's series history, such an example of two-men domination? Sing, ye Philadelphia fans, the praise of Plank and Bender, talk about the prowess of young Bush; tell how the conquering team made good in this top-sided series--but don't forget the laurels justly due to the most remarkable pair that ever conspired to drive in runs and win a series!

The real pitcher of the recent series, the man who worked best and most effectively, was Christy Mathewson. Take the figures as they come, add and subtract them as you will, and Matty looms up as the star. Here is about as effective a way of figuring pitching as any yet devised:

The number of runs divided by the number of chances a pitcher gives to manufacture runs. Add the hits to the number of runs, and both bases on balls and hit batsmen.

The total shows the number of men who reach base on the pitcher's own responsibility. The percentage of those men who score will show how well the pitcher holds them and keeps them from going round. In the recent series this was how they stood:

President Harvey Dreyfus is a majority of the National and American league club owners following his announcement of a plan for stimulating interest among fans as the face-end of the season.

The plan to end the regular league seasons of the National and American leagues on Labor day and have the teams play inter-league ball for a month, he believes, will meet with hearty support. His plan, similar to that of Clarry Herrmann, except that it retains the reserve measure.

The Pittsburgh management lost $20,000 in the last month of the season, he said, and it is safe to assume that other clubs out of the championship race lost heavily.
